PERSIAN LEADER RICHARD STOKES

Teheran, Aug. 12.

Iran's foremost clerical leader warned Britain today that any Iranian political leader who backed down on the nationalisation of British-owned oil interests would face assassination.

The warning came from Seyed Abolghassem Ku Kashani, one of the principal figures in the cationalisation of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, in conversation with Mr Richard Stokes; Lord Privy Seal and chief of the British delegation to the oil talks here. It came as Mr Stokes hoped to present definite compromise proposals to the Iranians which would get oil flowing again from Iranian fields and refineries to the Western world.

Reds Want Proposal

AT TRUCE TAIKS

Tokyo, Aug. 13. The Korean armistice talks go into their 23rd session on Monday with another crisis behind and some slight hope that eventually they may end the fighting.

Drawing back from the brink of failure; the negotiators will sit. down together again at 11 a.m. North Korea (time (10 a.m. Hongkong, time) to try to develop the first chink in the deadlock over where to draw an armistice line.

The UN High Command announced that the 22nd meeting in Kactong yesterday "may have uncovered a mutually acceptable idea in which, further exploratory discussions might he held." The Communists gave, the conference a new lease on life by producing a mystery map at Kaesong while their propagandists veered to the line that a compromise still was possible.

"No tangible progress" was the official word from Kassong, and Brigadier - General William Nuckols, official spokesman for the UN delegation, cautioned against over-oplimism. But there was no doubt that the session diveloped the first break since the Reds paralysed it with the demand for the 38th Parallel as the armistice line. And at the crucial session on Sunday, the Communists made no open retreat from their stubborn position. But they did make one: move that might lead to something. They gave the United Nations delegation a map which et least took into consideration the UN proposal

COMMENT OF THE DAY

Limit For Agreement

THE tedious procession of fruitless . conferences at Kaesong provides a nice test of patience, but that is all. The genuine desire of the Communists to end hostilities in Korea remains in doubt. On the other hand it is recognised they have placed themselves in an unenviable position. Their impracticable insistence that the ceasefire line of demarcation must be the 38th Parallel has made it difficult for them to suggest or accept an alternative without, apparently, losing face. Yet the outlook today is not quite so hopeless as it was 48 hours ago. The Communists have yielded slightly in one direction—they have agreed to study a map. The inference to be drawn is that they will, in due course, also be prepared to consider a compromise cease-fire line. But it will not be surprising if they take most or the whole of this week to arrive at that decision. The Communists are haggling over an issue, which ordinarily could have been agreed upon in fairly quick time, largely because they have overdone their propaganda. Precipitous retreat from the position they announced so blatantly to the world in the original stages of the Kaesong talks is, to them, out of the question, but that they must eventually make a concession if they really desire an armistice is inevitable. One point which may arise this week is whether the UN will place a time limit for resolving the truce line problem. Positive progress towards conclusion of an armistice is essential, but while the Communists are entitled to reasonable time in which to find an agreeable compromise, they cannot be permitted to stall indefinitely. If the truce line issue is not settled during this week, the United Nations would be justified in giving the Communists a time limit for reaching an acceptable

Ulbricht Shows His Hand

TESTERDAY'S parade in East | L Berlin of a million Communist youths "symbolising peace" was a propaganda designed to convince the rest of the world that genuine aspirations for universal peace exist only behind the Iron Curtain. The role which the children and young people played in this demonstration was innocent enough, but the true meaning behind the spectacularly organised affair, was disclosed by Herr Walter Ulbricht, one of East Germany's leading Communists, who harangued the paraders, not about peace, but on how to stimulate war by acts of sabotage and passive resistance to the law in Western Germany. Herr Ulbricht requires the young Communists of Wostern Germany to blow up bridges and important buildings, to refuse to pay taxes, to resist military training. This is Communism's conception of how to bring about peace in Europe. typical example of specious Red Herr Ulbricht virtually called on the youth of Western Germany to stage a revolt against its elected leaders—but of course, in the name of peace. He wants the trade unions smashed, the Bonn Government destroyed and Western Europe's defence plans sabotaged. It is doubtful whether any accompanied by a more inflammatory speech, and the tragedy is that a million youngsters allowed themselves to be duped by the occasion. Western Germany, however, has been warned elements are allowed full freedom of operation, and the outlawing of the movement is now more necessary, than peace demonstration has been what to expect if her Communist.

Washington, Aug. 12. An American Senate Foreign Relations Sub-Committee claimed today that Western Europe was lagging in building up its ground forces but had promised General Dwight D. Eisenhower a 75 per cent increase in divisions by next year.

Nine Senators comprising the Sub-Committee visited Europe and conferred twice with the Atlantic Pact Commander in July: They said in a formal report today:

OMAR BROTHERS WINTER OPEN RINKS FINAL WITH MACHINE-LIKE EFFICIENCY

"TOUCHER"

Functioning together with machine-like efficiency and precision, the Omar brothers collected the first of their possible four lawn bowls championships yesterday, defeating the Kitchells in the Open Rinks final by 23 shots to 19.

For the Omars, who had won the title once before in 1948, yesterday's win was a convincing and well-deserved one. The losers, appearing together as a combination in their first "big game," put up a gpliant uphill fight, and though defeated were by no means disgraced.

Apparently a little over-strung by the occasion, they played much below form vesterday as a whole, falling repeatedly into that lawn bowler's nightmare of being that yard or two short of the jack.

with a two and a four, were | day, kept in check on the next 11 heads, the score then reaching 13-10 still in their favour. They forged chead again on the next four heds to 19-10, and when when looked as if all was over, the Kitchells came back with a four on the 18th head and a five on the 20th head to narrow the score to 19-22.

On the final head the Omers were still beatable but a lamentable shortage or jack high woods nullified any possible chance of a Kitchell victory.

EFFECTIVE COMBINATION

The Omars played well to a man, and combined more effecthan their opponents. I.M. Omer, the winning lead, gave a consistent performance and though beaten by A. B. Kitchell in the number of heads when each had the lie, chalked up an equal total number of 13 shots on nine heads as against 13 shots on 11 heads. I. M. Some hundreds of enthusiasts and scores of cars turned out at St Stephen's in brilliant sunshine to watch the afternoon events which consisted of four classes of hillelimb (graded arcording to engine capacity). The course started from the beginning of the banked road below St Stephen's. Cars had to first accelerate, then a back linton marked out parking space, then advance in a series of swerves through closely placed obstacles consisting of bamboo poles stuck In light tins, before roaring away up the course of nearly a mile of hill bends to the top An efficient loudspeaker system kept the onlookers well informed as to what was going on with the times achieved by the various contestants.

After all entrants had made a first run up the slope, some half dozen from each of the four grades were selected for a final speed run without obstacles.

CONCOURS D'ELEGANCE

In the late afternoon a "Concours d'Elegance" drew ten entrants and provided considerable interest and amusement. Open to Rally entrants, with ladies either as passengers, or drivers, the cars drove into a cleared space before the judges, and stopped. The ladles then got out and promenaded around the parked vehicles. The idea was to judge which combined vehicle and Wong and Miss Susan Tam, in

THE FINAL COUNT FOR

The World's Best In Athletics

The world's best performances in athletics last year have been tabulated by D. H. Potts and R. L. Quercetani of the Association of Track and Field Statisticians, with the assistance of their associates of the ATFS all over the world, and the final list goes on the record—up to the 25th best-in the 1951 ATFS International Athletic Annual, published at Lugano, Italy.

Many of the outstanding performances you may have read of last year are not in the list. There has been a very careful check and only performances wellcertified to are recorded with lists given also of outstanding marks with wind aid or unacceptable for various technicalities.

The annual gives the date and place of each performance and serves as a very useful record book for followers of athletics. It is in its first year of issue and confines itself largely to European athletics with record lists for each country and detailed results of the various National Championships. It is the first of its kind ever attempted.

Electricity No Stabilisation The Worst Since 1947 Fund For Tip

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT!

"At the end of the war we all thought this nostwar period was going to be easier than it has in fact turned out to he in the economic sphere. And we have been trying to deal with it ever since by a series of temporary expedients which have led to a series of crises as each expedient became exhausted."

Sterling had just been devalued when Sir Stafford Orlops, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, made this typically candid statement in September 1949.

It seemed then that things had got as bad as they could be—that indeed the Government had abandoned the attempt to combat recurring economic crises with temporary expedients and had at last made up its mind to attack the disease at its root.

Britain's Brighter Meat Outlook

Washington, Aug. 12.
The meat outlook brighter for Britain but not for other importing countries, the Agriculture Department indicated today.

With world trade in meat not likely to increase this year, the Department said the No. exporter, Argentina, stepping up shipments to Britain and have less for the United States and other importers.

Ment-moving In world trade during 1950 totalled less than 4,000,000,000 pounds. This represented five per cent of the world production. It was less thon in 1949 and still 550,000,-'000 pounds below the pre-war! level of meat shipments.

Britain, where per capita consumption continued to rise was the world's biggest meat customer. She imported nearly 3,000,000,000 pounds. Argentina supplied around 25 percent of the total world ment movement, but her exports declined "because of reduced meat output; and a marked rise in demestic consumption. Because of rising domestic consumption and consmitments to the United King-. dom under the new trade agreement, some curtailment of Argentine meat products available for the United States and other markets is likely for

Liaquat Replies To Nehru

Karachi, Aug. 12. Linguat Ali Khan's telegram to Mr Jawaharlal Nehru - published today -- alleges that instead of withdrawing his forces to normal peacetime stations, the Indian Prime Minister is continuing to build them up on a war footing.

The Pakiston Prime Minister's message way delivered "to Mr Nehru in Delhi yesterday - his sixth in the exchange which followed his announcement on July 15 that Indian troops werz being massed on the Pakistan border. It asked Mr Nehru—"Is it not strange that you, who claim to have defended the people of Kashmir against eggression, dare not face their verdict in a free plebiscite under United Nations auspices?"

"You charge me with reserving freedom to attack Kashmir when all I seek is implementation of the international agreement on Rashmir under guidance of the United Nations," Mr Liequat Ali Khan added. "It would be truer to say that you reserve freedom to yourself to attack Pakistan unless I accept your unfounded erritory. "Although you closed door on it, my sincere and genuine offer of peace and filendship is still open for your acceptance. In this, as in every other matter, I am prepared to abide by the judgment of any

Why we say Outsider.

In the "good old days" of travel by stage-coach the folk with the money made sure they got seats inside where in weather they could keep their hands warm with hot potatoes and their feet snug in straw, What happened to the folk without any money? They were the priginal "outsiders" who went on top. And from describing people who couldn't rattle much together in their pockets the word d "outsiders" began to mean neople one didn't have anything to do with. not because they were poor but because they were "outside" decent society.

Japan Reported 100 Years Preparing To Make Payments

REPARATIONS

Tokyo, Aug. 13. The Japanese Finance Ministry plans on tentatively setting aside a sum to take care of anticipated payments on foreign bonds and reparations claims in the next year's budget.

The Ministry is expected to complete the first draft of its 1952 fiscal budget this week for presentation to the Cabinet early next week.

Since it is obviously too early to make an estimate of Japan's expenditures in connection with issues that will come up at the San Francisco peace treaty conference, tentative figures are being lined up with formal estimates' expected to be made when the Finance Minister returns to Japan from the San Francisco meeting.

The amount and form of -Japan's reparations under the present United States peace treaty formula would depend upon Japan's negotiations with the claimant country. Tentatively, however, the Asahi Shimbun, which sounded out officials in the Finance Ministry, reported today that the Ministry officials were figuring on a 20-30,000,-000,000 yen ($55,500,000 to $83,-333,000) in the 1952 fiscal

In the case of Japan's out standing foreign bonds, the Asahi reported, the principal and interest total about 140,-000,000,000 ven ($888,888,000 at the present official rate.)

Financially, this is regarded by the Japanese us the biggest problem in connection with the peace settlement. The Japanese government would like to borrow them on easier terms as was done in Italy; but it frankly does not believe that bondholders' in England and the United States could stand for this, according to the Asahi.

If this plan could be put into and on each occasion, he was next year's payments re-expelled. could be limited to somewhere between $5-8,000,000. Instead, again found here and this time however, the Asahi said the he was banished for life. In anticipation of the Calcutta Steamer, we have kept the press open to the intest hour; and must plead her nonappearance as an apology for the general barrenness of our columns, which we had hoped to fill with the latest intelligence from Europe.

The Steamer seen by the Linnet, on the 28th ult., steering to the northward, is supposed to have been the P. 4 O. S. N. Co.'s Erin, bound to Shanghai direct, with the account of the 8th Opium Sale which our contemporary of the Register speaks of, If Dr McGowan could induce the Chinese, for whom he has compiled a work on the subject, to get an Electric Telegraph in operation along the coast, he would perform an essential service for the community at large. > We commend the report of the Destitute Sick Society, to be found below, to the especial notice of the Editor of the North China Herald. As regards the accounts we hope the printer who received $60% for printing the (benevolent) reports, gave full value for the money. Mr Shortrede appears to have been in a great hurry to have the report passed without any disputation; and from a report that we have seen in another place, it would appear that he was anxious to check discussion of the Society's affairs generally. As a Contemporary (seldom addicted either to strong language or flowers of pocsy) would say "we were absent from home" or would have made it a duty to attend the meeting in question and to have prepared a report for ourselves. Transposition from the columns of another will, wo hope, however, fully satisfy our readers for this
